

Eric Dickens

Eric Dickens died on April 29th 2014 at the age of 80. Eric, with his son Lyndon, was a regular attendee at reunions and he was a Tiger through and through. Eric was married to Marion for 59 years and they had three children, six grandchildren and three great grandchildren. He joined the RAF when he was 18 for three years and served with 74 Squadron at Horsham St Faith from November 1952 until April 1955. He was an LAC, then SAC, and he loved his Meteors and so his ashes have been scattered by his family close by such an aircraft at the City of Norwich Aviation Museum. Outside the RAF Eric was a glass embosser by trade and was later a driver for Royal Mail and was a postman until he retired.
